EPA Clean Water Infrastructure Upgrades

By Environmental Protection Agency

WASHINGTON—Recently, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announced over $2.4 billion from President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law for states, tribes, and territories through this year's Clean Water State Revolving Fund (CWSRF). The funding will support communities in upgrading essential water, wastewater, and stormwater infrastructure that protects public health and treasured water bodies across the nation. Nearly half of this funding will be available as grants or principal forgiveness loans helping underserved communities across America invest in water infrastructure, while creating good-paying jobs. "President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law is delivering an unprecedented investment in America that will revitalize essential water and wastewater infrastructure across the country," said EPA Administrator Michael S. Regan. "Not only will these funds expand access to clean water and safeguard the environment, but more underserved communities that have been left behind for far too long will be able to access them.

The newly announced $2.4 billion is the second wave of funding made possible by the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law and builds on the Biden-Harris Administration's commitment to invest in America. In May 2022, EPA announced the initial allotment of $1.9 billion from the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law to states, tribes, and territories through the CWSRF. That money supports hundreds of critical water infrastructure projects around the country. The breakdown of funding for each state in the Northeast is:

- Connecticut will receive $28,424,000
- Maine will receive $17,961,000
- Massachusetts will receive $78,777,000 • New Jersey will receive $94,815,000
- New York will receive $256,106,000
- New Hampshire will receive $23,186,000
- Rhode Island will receive $15,579,000
- Vermont will receive $11,390,000 President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure

Law makes over $50 billion available for water and wastewater infrastructure improvements across the country between FY2022 and FY2026. EPA is committed to ensuring every community has access to this historic investment and has centralized increasing investment in disadvantaged communities within its implementation. This investment in water
