Making Life Changes for the Future Workforce

CMTC is a community based 501 c (3) non-profit organization dedicated to improving the lives of the people it serves by providing construction and life-skills training along with career assistance. All donations to the training center are tax deductible. Students receive 16 weeks of hands-on and classroom training that directly translates to the pre-apprenticeship skills necessary to enter into a career in the construction industry.

We follow a boot camp style format that emphasizes substance free healthy living, financial management, work skills and daily exercise, along with math literacy and construction skills. Classes are held every weekday from 7 am to 3:30 pm. Experts in various fields teach alongside our regular instructors.

Instructors from UC Berkeley's Labor Occupational Health Program, Laney College, International Chemical Workers Union and industry expert guest teach classes regularly.

The program has received local and national awards and has established itself as the foremost construction training program in the Bay Area.
